Here's a few shots from around Navy Medicine for your viewing pleasure:

Medical department personnel assigned to the future amphibious assault ship USS America (LHA 6) examine a Sailor with a simulated injury during a general quarters drill. America is traveling through the U.S. Southern Command and U.S. 4th Fleet areas of responsibility on its maiden transit, "America visits the Americas." America is the first ship of its class, replacing the Tarawa-class of amphibious assault ships. The ship is scheduled to be commissioned Oct. 11 in San Francisco. Retired Navy Hospital Corpsman 3rd Class Redmond Ramos competes in a 100 meter sprint heat at the 2014 Invictus Games. The international competition brings together wounded, injured and ill service members in the spirit of friendly athletic competition. American Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen and Marines are representing the United States in the competition which is being held in London, England, Sept. 10-14, 2014.
